K. James Davis Chaplain’s Award for Spirituality & Justice
2014-15 Academic Year

Completed applications must be submitted to Student Financial Services by March 31, 2014

The Chaplain’s Award was established to recognize and support students who have shown exceptional leadership at the intersection of spiritual practice and in working to create a socially just, inclusive campus and society. The award is given in honor of the university’s first full-time University Chaplain, K. James Davis, who served Puget Sound from 1979-2006. The award is funded through a combination of alumni gifts and a generous commitment from The Pacific Northwest Conference of the United Methodist Church, the denominational body that appointed Chaplain Davis to Puget Sound and with which the university has a long and historic relationship.

One $1,600 scholarship will be awarded. Candidates must have at least a 3.0 GPA, sophomore, junior or senior class standing, and respond to the following questions. Students from all spiritual traditions will be considered for this award.

Name: ___________________________ UPSID: _______________

Spiritual/Religious Tradition: ___________________________ If Christian, list denomination: _______________

1. Please describe your involvement in spiritual life at Puget Sound.
2. Please describe how you have worked for social justice, inclusion, and/or diversity on campus or in society while attending Puget Sound.
3. How do you understand the ways your spiritual practice or identity intersects with your commitment to social justice?

I agree that if I am selected for this scholarship, the university may supply information regarding my academic performance and other information (such as, but not limited to, the information submitted with the application) to the scholarship donor or other individuals or groups involved with the administration of this scholarship.

Signature: ___________________________ Date: _______________

Signature: ___________________________ Date: _______________