DEFINING CHARACTER

What are the defining physical characteristics of University of Puget Sound? How do these characteristics express the goals, mission and values of the university? What defines our sense of place, of space, of arrival? How do we move from one part of campus to another, how are these parts connected, and what is the experience of those who traverse these paths? The Defining Character diagram is a tool to use in making the most of what we have and identifying areas for improvement.