Do you want to...

- Break cycles of oppression and poverty?
- Promote access to college education in disadvantaged groups?
- Get involved in the Tacoma community?
- Build relationships across the campus and Tacoma?

More and more students from historically underrepresented and disadvantaged groups are graduating from Tacoma Public High Schools!

More and more students are college bound.

(Graduation rates rose 15% from 2013-15)

What Can You Do?

Become a mentor to Lincoln High School students from underrepresented and economically disadvantaged backgrounds!

Young Adults Who Were at Risk for Falling Off-Track But Had Mentors Are:

- 55% More Likely to Enroll in College
- 78% More Likely To Volunteer Regularly
- 90% Are Interested in Becoming a Mentor
- 130% More Likely To Hold Leadership Positions

As a mentor with Linc & Loggers, you will have the opportunity to:

- Provide information and resources to students about Financial Aid, College Applications, and the Admission process.
- Build a personal relationship with your mentee, providing them with support and encouragement to excel.

As well as enhancing your communication skills, fostering mutual growth, developing teamwork skills, and learning to manage relationships.

Median Annual Income Based on Education Experience:

- No Degree/Some College: $28,000
- Two-Year Degree: $30,000
- Bachelor’s or Above: $45,000

In a study done this year, organization Young Invincibles found a wide difference between young adults with at least a two-year college degree. With white adults having an almost 15% lead.

Income by Race:

- Black: 33%
- Latinx: 23%
- White: 47%

But societal barriers make getting into, paying for, and staying in higher education difficult for already disenfranchised people.

The difference between those who have college degrees and those who don’t remains vast.
