University of Puget Sound
What We Stand For

Our community is committed to helping students identify, and achieve their career goals.

- We maintain that learning happens both inside, and outside the classroom.
- We recognize the importance of self-reflection, and encourage students to think critically about their own skills.
- Every student is valued and recognized for the work they do.

Learning Comes Full Circle

Mentors Guiding Life-Long-Learners

Celebrating Conversation
Conversation 1 (September)

Objectives:
Identify learning outcomes and opportunities in employment

Orientation Questions:
- What is a strength, skill, or experience you bring to this job that will contribute to your success here?
- What do you expect you will learn or improve while working this job?

Core Questions:
1. How are you balancing work with your life at Puget Sound (academics, involvement, social)?
2. How might learning in your classes apply here at work?
3. Give a couple of examples of things you’ve learned in your on-campus job that you’ll use in your future?
4. What can your supervisor do to support your efforts to perform well and learn meaningful skills in this job?
Questions:
1. Think back to your personal goals from Conversation 1. What led you to value those goals in your personal life, and what steps are you currently taking to achieve them?
2. Identify potential challenges or concerns that could arise for you in your area of work.
3. What does “success” look like in this job?
4. What do you consider to be your greatest strengths?
Student Reflection

"You may not control life's circumstances, but getting to be the author of your life means getting to control what you do with them."

Atul Gawande, Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End

Questions:
1. Think about a moment in your life where you have felt uncomfortable or uncertain about the surrounding circumstances:
   a. How did you respond in that moment?
   b. What do you want to do the next time you encounter a new or uncomfortable situation?
Conversation 2 (November)

Objectives:
Identify how life at Puget Sound applies to your future career goals

Career Development Questions:
1. When you were growing up, what careers did you dream about? What careers intrigue or interest you now? Why?
2. With your supervisor’s help as needed, arrange an Informational Interview with a professional in a field of interest. Information about the purpose of an Informational Interview, as well as guidance on arranging, preparing for, and conducting an Informational Interview is available at pugetsound.edu/CESinfointerview.

Core Questions:
1. How are you balancing work with your life at Puget Sound (academics, involvement, social)?
2. How might learning in your classes apply here at work?
3. Give a couple of examples of things you’ve learned in your on-campus job that you’ll use in your future?
4. What can your supervisor do to support your efforts to perform well and learn meaningful skills in this job?
“You can't write a script in your mind and then force yourself to follow it. You have to let yourself be.”

Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Half of a Yellow Sun

Questions:
1. How have your career goals been impacted by your work experience?
Conversation 3 (February)

Objectives:
Identify areas of competence and growth
Discuss plans for employment next year

Assessment Questions:
1. Use the skill identification exercise on the following pages to identify areas of competence and enjoyment at work.
2. Pick 2 or 3 skill areas where you want to increase your level of competency.
3. What are your plans for the summer (or after graduation, if you’re a senior) and in what ways will you incorporate your skill area(s) of strong competence?

Core Questions:
1. How are you balancing work with your life at Puget Sound (academics, involvement, social)?
2. How might learning in your classes apply here at work?
3. Give a couple of examples of things you’ve learned in your on-campus job that you’ll use in your future?
4. What can your supervisor do to support your efforts to perform well and learn meaningful skills in this job?
Skills Identification

Think about your past and current academic, extracurricular, and employment experiences. Mark your level of competency for each of the listed skills.

- What high competency skills do you already possess? Think back to how you developed those skills.
- What skills would you like to improve in this position?
Questions:

1. How has your perspective on your individual competencies changed?
2. What is one skill area that you feel less confident about?
3. What steps could you take to become more comfortable with this particular skill?
4. Think of a situation where you feel most comfortable and confident in your area of work:
   a. What skills are you using in that moment?
   b. How could those skills transfer to your “goal career” setting?
5. From the skills identification page you completed, describe an instance where you utilized at least one of your competencies in the past month:
   a. What worked well in that moment?
   b. What didn’t work?
   c. What will you do in the future to further develop your strengths?
Student Reflection

“I focus, I invent, I transform, I challenge, I attempt, I observe, I perform.”

Philippe Petit

Notes

Questions:

Consider these two quotes from Philippe Petit (the man who talked on a tightrope between the twin towers in NY) and think back to a moment where you have felt “unbalanced” or challenged in your life:

1. What did you do to move forward after that moment?
2. How could you apply what you learned to this job or your future career goals?
Objectives:

Identify what has been accomplished, what has been learned, and what there is to be proud of.

Recognition Questions:
1. What have you accomplished in this job this year and what are you proud of?

Core Questions:
1. How are you balancing work with your life at Puget Sound (academics, involvement, social)?
2. How might learning in your classes apply here at work?
3. Give a couple of examples of things you’ve learned in your on-campus job that you’ll use in your future?
4. What can your supervisor do to support your efforts to perform well and learn meaningful skills in this job?
Questions:
1. Look back through the moments of achievement you wrote down over the course of the semester, and focus on one specific instance:
   a. How did you feel in that moment?
   b. What skills did you use to achieve that moment of achievement?
2. What additional resources, conversations etc. would you need in the future to feel more successful?
