

The Idea of Wine

Tuesday, March 9th, 5:00-6:00pm PST

With Pierre Ly, Professor and Program Director, International Political Economy

About the Event

Through wine you can see and experience the world, but what is the truth behind this complicated and contested beverage? Come and learn more about the political, social, and economic forces that impact and influence the world of wine while you enjoy a glass of your choosing. Be sure to register, as attendance is limited.

Wine Tasting Recommendations

Professor Pierre Ly will lead a wine tasting during the seminar as he shares about the Idea of Wine. If you would like to participate in the tasting, Professor Ly recommends the following selections:

- A Sparkling Wine
 - Chandon Brut - California Available Here
 - Moet & Chandon Imperial Brut - Champagne, France Available Here
- A White Wine
 - Any white from Washington State
- A Red Wine
 - Chateau Rongzi Red Label - Clackamas, OR Available Here
 - Any red from Washington State

Please order any wines you would like to taste by March 1 in order to allow time for shipping. Feel free to taste as many or as few of these wines as you would like, or enjoy your own personal favorite – whether you are tasting with us or not, we look forward to discussing and learning together!
